Practice Final Part III

Written Language

Directions: For each of the following sentences, decide if one of the four underlined words or phrases is incorrect. If all four underlined sections are correct, then select E. (These sentences are related.)

Panic Disorder

I.	Introduction
	A.	Defin	Definition
		1.	 type of anxiety disorder
		2.	frequent, unexattacks)	xpected episod	les of inte	nse fear & ai	nxiety (called panic
	B.	Backg	Background information
		1.	serious condit	tion (affects ab	oility to fu	nction at wo	rk & home)
		2.	many—abuse	alcohol / drug	s: relieve	anxiety
		3.		ts suicide—car	n't cope w	// panic attac	ks
	C.	Statis	Statistics
		1.	2–3 times more common—women
		2.	attacks start in 20s (usually)
		3.	attacks diminish in number & severity—as grows older
		4.	4. sometimes in children—not diagnosed until older (often)
	D.	D. Thesis statement
21)	The	~~ ~	for A 1 2.
31)	The sentence for A.1.2: Danie discorder is a type of anyiety discorder that is about attained by infragrant
	Panic disorder is a type of anxiety disorder that is characterized by infrequent , A B C
	unex	nected e	pisodes of inten	se fear and an	xietv. call	led panic atta	_
		F	r		D	F
32)	The	sentence	e for B.2.3:
	Many people with panic disorder abuse alcohol or drugs to relieve his anxiety, and $\frac{1}{A}$ B						_ one in five patients attempts suicide because they are unable to cope with their
		C	D
	panic attacks. Correct
			E
33)			e for C.2.3:
	However , the attacks usually start when the patient is in her 20s and diminish
	A	A	В			C
	in nu	ımber an	d severity as sh	e grows older.		t
		D			E
34)			e for C.4:
	Som	etimes, p	oanic disorder o	ccurs in childr	en althou A	gh it is often B	not diagnosed C
	until	the child	dren are older.	Correct
		D		E

35)	The thesis sentence for this essay: This anxiety disorder can be further defined according to its causes ,
		-		A		В
	including low levels of serotonin , symptoms, and methods of treatment. Correct
			C			D		E
II.	Possible causes
	A.		evels of serotonin
	 serotonin = brain chemical (helps control anxiety & mood) when levels low—overreact to perceived threat (can → panic attack)
	B.			hange of carb
		1.	_	proper breath	_
		2.		carbon dioxid				1
	C.		archers belie	ve	_	f suffocation (t	rigger p	anic attack)
		1.		play role in c	-
		2.		thinking styl n developme		hasize danger o	of certain	n events) can
36)	The sentence for A.1:
	Panic disorder may be caused by low levels of serotonin that is a brain chemical A B that helps control anxiety and mood . Correct C D E
37)	The sentence for A.2: When levels of serotonin are low the patient overreacts to a perceived threat,
				A	В		ived thr	eat,
]	D	attack. Corr E
38)			e for B.1: er also result	s from an im	balance in th	ne exchange of	carbon o	lioxide
			A		-	В
	and c	oxygen o D	due to impro	per breathing	g when a pers	son is stressed.	Corre E	ct
39)	The sentence for B.2.3:
	The imbalance causes excess carbon dioxide to accumulate in the blood, which A B C leads to feelings of suffocation that triggers a panic attack. Correct
40)				cation that tri	ggers a pani D	c attack. Corre E	ct
40)			e for C.1.2: researchers b	elieve stress	and unhealth	ny thinking styl B	es that
		C		er of certain e	vent can pla D	y a role in the d	levelopr	nent of this disor	der. Co	orrect E							