

“In, After, and During Which”

Directions: Combine the following sentences using adjective clauses

- 1) The students went to the morgue to study the human brain. They learned that the brain has many wrinkles and weighs about 1.4 kg.

- 2) Hodgkin’s disease is diagnosed using a gallium scan. In a gallium scan, radioactive gallium is injected into the body.

- 3) Homesickness is a feeling of distress. A person often experiences depression or anxiety when he is separated from his home environment.

- 4) Freud spent many years in Vienna. After his stay in Vienna, he moved to Paris to work with a physician who was using hypnosis with mentally ill patients.

- 5) Cardiomyopathy is a type of heart disease. In this condition, the heart muscle is abnormally enlarged, thickened, or stiffened.

- 6) In a Cesarean section, the doctor makes a horizontal incision in the mother's abdomen and another incision in the uterus. After the incisions are made, he gently pulls the baby out.

- 7) A common immunological disorder is bronchial asthma. In this disorder, the muscles of the bronchi contract and obstruct the free passage of air.
